SPEED COP ON THE JOB

Beamer Quietly Gets Busy Last Saturday Night with Telling Results

The much desired speed cop is now a reality in the Sonoma Valley and he quietly got busy on the nice highway between the Springs and Verano last Saturday night with the result that he arrested several violators and put the soft, soft pedal on the speed mania of many itinerant joy riders.

The speed cop is Eddie Beamer and when he beams on a malfactor there is nothing to it but the toils of the law. He first got busy with the rising generation, captured a small boy with a bike and a young motorcyclist from El Verano who was minus a light. The latter paid a $5 fine to his Honor Judge Small for the privilege of rambling around in the gloaming.

A. H. Ross, a Petaluma jeweler, was one of the more prominent citizens hailed by the speed cop who reminded him that he was going in excess of 30 miles an hour. Ross and his party vehemently denied that they were traveling any faster than 27, but on appearing in court the following Monday, the charge preferred against the Petalumian was "traveling in excess of 20 miles an hour in a closely populated district." He paid a fine of $15 and his star witnesses took the opportunity to give their opinion of horrid speed cops.

A sign warning motorists to not drive in excess of 20 miles will be put up along the road between Verano and the springs which is a growing section and becoming more thickly populated each season.

Beamer's next seance was with one Cohen from San Francisco who was more than doing the modern Mercury stunt and when overtaken by the officer, commandeered the boy's popular excuse—a sick grandmother—to whose bedside he was hastening regardless of expense. Upon his return from his mission of mercy he was halted again and promised to appear in court within five days to tell the extenuating circumstances to the judge who will be asked to deal firmly but gently with Mr. Cohen.

Beamer's presence along the tempting stretch of highway, where so many terrible mishaps have occured lately, had a very healthy effect and it was a well disciplined procession of autos that cautiously hit the road this week and kept their speedometers just where they belonged.

Ladies Plan Grand Fiesta

The Ladies Auxiliary of St. Francis Church are quickly bringing to completion plans for an elaborate out-door festival Saturday, July 28, afternoon and evening.

The grounds just above the church on Napa Street will be suitably laid out and artistically decorated. San Francisco will lend her aid to transform the campus into a veritable fairyland.

At a meeting held Thursday afternoon the decorator laid his design before the committee. Garlands of flowers and foliage will form artistic settings for "cozy corners" where parties may enjoy supper. Varied colored lights and fairy lanterns will also lend their aid to charm the eye, while the latest and best music will gratify the ear.

Supper tables will be well supplied and will be served to meet all pocket books.

Races, games and joy rides will fill intermissions and best of all a ten dollar gold piece will be given away. . The gate ticket is only 10 cents and everyone holding a gate ticket will be entitled to a chance in getting the ten dollars. Don't miss your chance, secure a ticket from the ladies in charge.

The Flying Needles will meet at Mrs. Volquardsens Wednesday, July 11th. A good time is assured.

Miss Matilda Baccala has taken a position as assisting Wells-Fargo agent here and is a pleasant and accomodating aid to Mr. Schutz, the resident agent.

Mrs. Drullard and daughter, Pauline, who are sojourneying at Boyes Springs, entertained Librarian, Miss Kate McDonell, on the Fourth.

Mrs Louise Rufus Lamb is here from Los Angeles on a visit.

Miss Agnes Moss is down from her home in Geyserville.

Willie Peterson, one of Sonoma Valley's most popular young men, who has of late been employed by the Standard Oil Company of Richmond, was united in marriage last Saturday to Miss Ramona White.

The young bride was formerly a Sonoma girl and the romance which ended so happily at the altar, had its begining here.

Mr. Peterson has many friends who will congratulate him heartily on his marriage. He is a young man of sterling worth and his many fine traits with his pleasant personality, has made his success in the business world assured.

BRUCE WEATHERHEAD IS ARRESTED

On complaint of Nellie O'Brien, a warrant was issued by Justice Vaughan, of Santa Rosa, this week, charging Bruce Weatherhead agent of the Sonoma Valley Water, Light and Power Company, with malicious mischief. He is charged with tampering with flumes and pipes on the premises of the O'Briens.

Weatherhead had the plaintiffs arrested last week for violating an injunction.

The trouble is the outcome of the long disputed water rights on the properties west of Sonoma owned by the O'Briens and the water company.

Dr. O. G. Freyermuth motored up from San Francisco last week on a visit to the L. S. Simmons home.

Dr. I. C. Gobar went to San Francisco Tuesday in his car via the Black Point Cut-off.

CONFESSION TO "CRIME" PROBED

Dave Manuck and His Father Taken Into Custody for Mythical Offense

Following the alleged confession of 13 year old Dave Manuck, which was made to Constable Jack Murray a warrant was sworn to by G. H. Marioni, charging the boy with wilfully, lawlessly and feloniously mutilating his cow by cutting one of her teats.

The "crime" was said to have been committeed on the 12th of June although no complaint was filed until the last day of the month, Friday, June 29.

The boy was remanded to the custody of the Juvenile Court, and after being detained by the sheriff's office until 11 o'clock at night in Santa Rosa, is said to have made a second confession, which implicated his father. Meanwhile Judge Small accepted $25 bail for the boy and the sheriff's office was communicated with and advised to let him return home until the case should be transferred to the Juvenile court for a hearing.

The following day the boy's father was arrested for the same offense with which his son was charg ed and he engaged council while declaring the innocence of himself and boy and expressing his belief that Dave Manuck was intimidated into signing the confession made to officer Murray—the confession of a crime purely mythical, one that never existed.

Veterinarians went to the Marioni place, examined the cow and were of the opinion that the cow had injured herself either by stepping on her bag with her sharp hoof as she got up or in some other manner. The injury seemed to be in the nature of a bruise rather than a cut. That there was no wilful or felonious cuttmg was the opinion of such experts as Dr. Nufer, Joe Ryan and Dr. Summer field, who accompanied District Attorney Hoyle to the scene of the alleged crime.

TAKE STEPS IN WATER MATTER

The city trustees at their regular July meeting Thursday night took preliminary steps to submit the question of acquiring the Emparan Water Works. The procedure followed close upon a test made of the distributing system Tuesday night when it is claimed 65 pounds pressure was applied to the pipes with excellent result.

The fire pressure, which will be secured from the higher reservoir unit to be constructed, will give a pressure of 52 pounds.

Engineer George S. Dillman will be asked to prepare plans for the water system and C. C. Cowgill was instructed to take the necessary legal steps.

Other business transacted by the City Dads Thursday was the rejection of the bid of $3,200 for a stone bridge on Washington street, and the payment of bills, which were allowed to the following claimants:

O'BRIEN'S STATE THEIR CASE

(communicated)

El Verano, July 4, '17.

Editor Index Tribune,
Sonoma, Cal.

Through the medium of your valuable paper I would like to correct an erreonous impression which may have been created by an article on the front page of the other paper of June 28, 1917.

It will probably be remembered by your readers that some five years ago we had to fight the Water Company to protect our right to waters, which rises on our property and obtaining the decision on all fourteen courts involved, as well as being given damages, this by a jury, after a trial lasting several days and our title to all the water under consideration was ratified. At the time of the trial a temporary injunction was issued, which quite naturally became null and void after we had obtained the verdict.

Two years after the trial of the case Judge Seawell set aside the unanimous verdict of the jury. We now have the case on appeal in the Supreme Court. This setting aside the verdict however, did not renew the injunction and it would seem to us that the case is now entirely out of the jurisdiction of the Superior Court, at any rate, we have been so advised.

According to the Expositor, Attorney Shannon, who represents the Water Company, made the statement that we had divirted water belonging to the company, which is absolutely a false statement. While we have no doubt that he is a competent attorney, still he must have been very badly informed as to who owned the water, or failed to read the records, as none of us remember having sold our rights to the Water Company, and we surely would have to in order that it become their property.

It is pretty evident that he failed to have us cited for contempt as so far none of us have been nofified to appear and if anyone has reached the limit of endurance it surely is us, and not the Water Company, as Mr. Shannon claims. So much so that we have decided not to put up with any further nonsense from the company or its hirelings, as the fact of our having one of them arrested for malicious mischief will attest.. The attorney for the company must have been in a bad way when he had to go to one of our attorneys and have him write us, asking that we be good and let them have the water. It is a wonder to us that they do not claim the trees and milk from the cows at the dairy ranch. It seems as though they might just as well do the thing up right while they are about it. Why don't they ask for the thousand acres? It is too funny to think that we own the ranch and they own the water. Where do they get that stuff? I would like to try some of it myself. It surely must induce pleasant dreams.

I wonder by what God Given right they demand that we should give them the water belonging to us and not the water Company as stated by Mr. Shannon, in order that they may take it to El Verano and Sonoma to sell it. They certainly have not ever paid us one cent for water which rises on our property, but on the other hand they have compelled us to spend thousands of dollars in protection of our property which in itself is a dastardly outrage, think it over, you people of Sonoma and El Verano and especially property owners, what would you do under the ciccumstances

As a final resort, when all other means failed, the company's hireling took upon himself to swear to a warrant, charging one of the owners of the property with wasting water well knowing that the subject was before the Supreme Court.

In conclusion we want the people of Sonoma and El Verano to understand that the Water Company, and not we, are to blame. A child of sixteen would know better than to lay down a water system without first obtaining his water rights, yet this is just what the company did, evidently thinking that because they had only women to deal with they could scare us into giving up our valuable rights without a fight, but from now on if it is fight they are looking for they are going to get it no matter who owns the company, and further, I would like to advise Attorney Arthur L. Shannon to make sure of his facts in the future before making a statement such as is credited to him.

(signed) Nellie O'Brien.

NARROW ESCAPE SATURDAY NIGHT

While Spencer Harris, Otto Waldorf and Archie Revie were driving from the Springs last Saturday night toward Sonoma, an automobile from Napa county came around the corner just below Verano and ran into them. The driver of the machine barely missed the horse but struck the buggy with such force that the boys were thrown out and the horse ran away. The rig was badly smashed up but fortunately no one was injured. Spencer Harris was driving and it is due to his quick action and good judgment that the results were not more serious, for had he not turned the horse into the fence it would undoubtedly have been killed. As it was the frightened animal ran away and was caught at Sonoma Grove.

The driver of the machine whose number was 160182 is connected with the State Hospital at Napa and promised to make good the damage suffered by the boys.

"My Country 'Tis of Thee, Sweet Land of Liberty."

Drawing the Line Between Necessity and Fanaticism

—oOo—

President Wilson stepped in and drew the line between food conservation and prohibition radicalism last week which put an end to the disgraceful spectacle of a lot of agitators trying to use the United States Government and the present exigency to make something stick—the something that has savored of fanaticism and that has been gradually infringing on the personal liberties of our people for many years and for which there has never been any proven neccessity until we came to a point where the country needed to otherwise utilize products which formerly went into the manufacture of spirits. The conserving of these products to increase the food supply was shown to be a neccessity of war. Up to that point the prohibitionists were reinforced in their argument by reason, but with characteristic narrowness and zealous frenzy, they seized the opportunity to force their entire propaganda on the nation and thought they could "get away" with the whole "bone dry" program which they have been trying to force down the throats of the people these last few years. The moral neccessity was urged, the atrophying of will power commended and the hue and cry and commotion they raised was clouding the entire issue and blocking real progress until the president stepped in and called them.

It looks now that the people are not going to be disturbed in the moderate use of wine and beer, the light beverages which make for temperance and are essntial to a country like the United States which is cosmopolitan in character and amalgamates the people of the earth—people who are accustomed to wine and beer and who could only have disrespect for a land wherein their moderate use was called criminal.

The claim that the nation's attitude on the liquor question and the barring of spirits vindicates California's action in considering the Rominger measure, does not appear to be a point well taken for the reason that in the consideration of the Rominger bill there was not shown to be any crying neccessity like the utilization of grain for foodstuffs or the rigid discipline of war times. It was solely the predjudice against whiskey and saloons and the impossible feat of forcing a bone dry proposition on the verdant hop fields and beauteous vinyards of California that gave the Rominger bill vitality. It partially appeased and was to temporarily satisfy its proponents, but identical with the zealots at Washington who showed their hand when they thought they had a chance to crowd through their real bigotry, the Rominger backers would have revealed their Janus-faced attitude of double dealing sooner or later when the time was regarded as ripe.

Now that the issue is a national one and the President has recommended temperance and congress has shown a reason for the suppression of strong drink, we are getting this question on a saner basis and out of the hands of cunning politicians who have been crowding themselves forward on this wave of fanaticism. Many of them arrived on it too, and landed in Washington where they framed up such legislation as goes into effect this week, the prohibiting of newspapers containing liquor advertising from dry towns and states. A good test of those who claim they advocated the elimination of strong drink solely for the better utilization of food products will be the fate of brandy, manufactured from pumice, the residue of the grape, and paying a big revenue to the government, which certainly needs revenue in war times.

Proper Settlement of Celebration Matters Imperative

—oOo—

When you wind up a clock, you start something; When you wind up a celebration you start something too, if you don't wind it up right.

The Index-Tribune has refrained from embroiling the community into any open discussion of the blunders made in the carrying out of the details of the recent celebration whereby certain members of the committees were given too much license to put themselves forward and others allowed themselves to be ignored, but things have come to pass in winding up the financial affairs of the big doings whereby it becomes a duty to turn the searchlight of inquiry upon the finale, that the representative men and women who headed the committees may not all be blamed for the arbitrary actions of a disgruntled or officious few. It was conceded immediately after the celebration that there would be a surplus in the treasury. It was hoped by the public spirited and broad minded donors of moneys and by the majority of the committees that any surplus would be turned over to some laudable project like the Red Cross or road improvement or promotion work like that asked by the Hour Glass tour people. The executive committee expected that a regular meeting would be called to wind up celebration affairs, to ascertain final receipts and proper expenditures and to determine by a majority vote, what was to become of any residue on hand.

They waited in vain, many of them are waiting yet while to others came a mysterious invitation inviting them to come to a social evening and supper at the Union Hotel, Saturday evening, June 30th. The invitation was signed by the Emergency committee , a body named by Z. T. Spencer to transact any business that might come up during the three days of the celebration and whose duties or powers ended there. On this committee were Messrs Spencer, Watters and Otto Wagner.

The invitation was decorated with some post script hieroglyphics advising that the surplus in the treasury would be discussed and its disposition determined upon. This was signed by Mr. Spencer. All the chairmen of committees were not invited as would naturally be expected. Official procedure was thrown to the winds while the social dictators proceeded to name the elect and vent their spleen against those who had incurred their displeasure. To the credit of their gallantry however let it be said that they extended the courtesies to all the lady chairmen of committees but they played a little game called tit-for-tat nevertheless, and took a fall out of several of our leading citizens because they were anti-administration or because the arbiters cherished some grievance for which they had long wanted to "get back". At any rate many of the executive committee were ignored, and many of the invited ones began to question the dinner arrangement, ask who authorized the feast, who was to pay for it and the like. Public opinion was stirred when it became known that a dinner with wine for from sixteen to twenty people had been ordered, presumably at public expense. The dinner was given, and a fine dinner it was too with an elaborate menu and pretty decorations, but only seven participated although empty chairs and the places set showed preparation had been made for twenty people.

The four members of the celebration committees, only three of which are members of the executive committee are said to have completed all transactions and agreed on the disposition of moneys on hand.

The men and women who are responsible to the community for the proper winding up of the affairs and who will be held accountable by public opinion were not consulted with, while the high handed action resorted to by four members is being criticized widely.

An accounting is due the public and should eminate from the proper source—the executive committee—which is the only qualified body to determine proper or improper expenditures, and to dispose of any surplus that may remain in the treasury when all legitimate bills shall have been paid.

The stewardship of moneys collected for public purposes is a sacred trust and should any irregularity attach itself to this affair, it will hurt Sonoma Valley's chances for ever enlisting public interest or popular subscription again.

FINE BANQUET BUT POOR BUSINESS

Arbitrary Action of Four Committeemen of Celebration Begets Criticism

Four members of the celebration committee attended the fine banquet arranged for by Otto Wagner last Saturday night at the Union Hotel. They were Z. T. Spencer, Henry Watters, Otto Wagner and Adam Adler. Mesdames Spencer, Wagner and Adler were also present.

The $150 surplus probably left in the celebration fund treasury was disposed of to the satisfaction of those present. They gave $50 of it to the Red Cross and created a benevolence fund of the remainder for the relief of home distress. Henry Watters, who was one of the committee men present, gives the following version of it:

" After supper the business of the evening was taken up and thoroughly and carefully considered. The result of the deliberations being a unanimous vote to donate to the local branch of the Red Cross $50.

The disposition of the remainder was then considered, a suggestion being made that this money be donated to relieving home distress. The proposal received the approval and sanction of all present and it was unanimously voted to create a benevolence fund for the relief of distressed people here at home, to be administered by a board of two trustees, who are empowered to investigate cases of need in the community, relieving such as are deserving and to have entire charge of the disbursement of this fund.

Mrs. Jeanette Rice and Mr. A. S. Luce were appointed trustees.

This action disposes of the surplus funds in the hands of the celebration committee."

After all bills are paid the amount in the benevolence fund will be approximately $100.00.

This also concludes the work of the Executive Committee, which has extended over a period of twelve weeks with regular meetings and several special meetings, all of which were attended by the chairman and many of the committee heads."

The arbitrary action of the four committeemen present is being widely criticized as it was generally supposed that the disposition of any surplus would be decided upon by a majority of the members of the Executive Committee and in a business like manner.

The Red Cross was popular choice for any moneys left over and the creation of a trust fund for home distress to be administered by two trustees chosen at this banquet, is considered not only high handed, but farcical since the Red Cross Society takes care of such work and in the finest manner possible.

A lapse of memory is said to have caused Wm. Gallagher, arrested as a slacker here, to fail to register. He had been a sufferer from typhoid and agreed to register when taken to Santa Rosa.

Mrs. Regusci was severely bitten by a dog last week. Drs. Hays and Shields had the case under observance.

Mrs. Schumacher has been ill and under the care of Dr. Gobar.

Mrs. Harry Foster is to leave Sonoma and will take up her residence in San Francisco where her husband and son are employed.

WOMEN TO AID IN FOOD CONSERVATION

Following the action of the women throughout the country, the women of Sonoma are beginning to organize in the campaign directed by Herbert Hoover toward conserving the nation's supply of food. At a recent meeting of the Sonoma Woman's club Mrs. F. T. Duhring was appointed chairman, to be in readiness when the call comes for the co-operation of the women of this valley.

The Council of National Defense states: "It is literally true that there will not be food enough in the world to maintain the population if present methods are followed". Hence the women are to be enrolled as an army of thrift, to see that no waste is permitted in their homes, and that house keeping become more efficient. The work will soon be taken up.

"There can be no doubt but what the loyalty and devotion of the women of this country will lead them enthusiastically into the plan of thrift and careful buying, which is not only advisable but is absolutely necessary if countless thousands are to be saved from starvation.

There was never a greater challenge to the womanhood of a country than that made by the President of the United States to women, for voluntary enrollment in this league for food conservation. It is the devotion, courage, and economy of the women of France today that is largely helping to keep her armies in the field and save the nation from destruction. We believe the American women will show as fine a spirit in this hour of need, and stand with the women of the allied countries in our fight for liberty and democracy."

Anna Howard Shaw.

Here are the things which each family in the State will be asked to do in helping to save food:

FIRST—To save the wheat. One wheatless meal each day, using corn bread or other cereal as a substitute.

SECOND—To save the meat. One meatless day each week and to buy less meat and to serve in smaller portions. . . . . .

THIRD—To save butter fats. To use no butter in cooking. . . . . .

FOURTH—To save transportation facilities, by eating home products and so release freight cars for other uses than transportation of food. . . .

FIFTH—To preach the gospel of "the clean plate," to buy less foodstuffs and to skimp the garbage can.

SIXTH—To increase the use of corn, buckwheat, rice, rye and all vegetables. . . . . .

SEVENTH—Aside from eating an increased proportion of these commodities in order to save on wheat, meat and butterfats, to preserve and store any surplus for winter use. . .

Little Miss Dorothy Wise has been visiting her relatives, the James Tate family.

COMPLAINANT GETS HIGHER RATE, NOT REDRESS

The Railroad Commission has ordered a readjustment of the electric rates of the California Telephone and Light Company, so as to remove discrimination and establish uniformity. The order also provides that the various classes of business shall bear their equitable proportion of the cost of service.

The electric lines of the company extend through Sonoma county from Potter Valley on the north, the Russian River summer resorts on the west, Cotati on the south and Sonoma and Glen Ellen on the south and east. The commission says that as a result of the widely-scattered territory the company's expenses are ordinarily high, and it must be expected that its consumers shall bear part of the extra burden necessitated by the peculiar conditions necessary to their service.

The order permits the company to charge 10 cents a kilowatt hour for the first 100 kilowatt hours and 5 cents a kilowatt hour for all over 100 kilowatt hours used for general lighting purposes. In the Potter Valley district the commission permits the company to charge a minimum monthly rate of 50 cents a meter and in the Russian river district south of and including Mills station and in the Sonoma valley district south of and including Glen Ellen a monthly minimum charge of $1.50 a meter. The summer cottage lighting rate is fixed at 10 cents a kilowatt hour, with a minimum charge of $9 in advance for six months' service and $12 in advance for twelve months' service.

The commission also fixes rates for sign lighting, municipal street lighting, and establishes general power and seasonal power rates.

The decision is the result of a complaint brought by E. T. Guisler and twenty-four other residents of Geyserville and vicinity against the California Telephone Company, alleging excessive rates for electric service.

The company's existing contracts for the Cloverdale municipal pumping plant, the Healdsburg municipal lighting plant and the Glen Ellen State Home are not altered.

NEWLYWEDS RESIDE IN METROPOLIS

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Seaver, bride and groom of last week, who have been spending their honeymoon in the Russian river country, are now domiciled in a pretty apartment in San Francico, where Mr. Seaver is employed.

The former employee of the Jones ranch, where he was in charge of the pumps for several years, has taken a fine position in the metropolis.

The pretty young bride was the former Miss Ethel Shane and the young couple have the best wishes of many friends throughout Sonoma Valley, for a long and happy married life.

Senators who would favor the food control bill will vote against it on account of the liquor clause. Any who oppose probition under guise of food control legislation now will attack the measure. Others will assail the dry amendment prohibiting beer and liquor manufacture, but placing the life of wines in the President's hands, as "discriminatory."

Senator Lodge, member of the Finance Committee, this afternoon, June 30, opened the attack on the dry amendment. He urged that in its stead be substituted legislation which would prevent the further manufacture of distilled spirits and would result in the commandeering of all spirits in bond, which would permit further manufacture of beers and wines.

Mrs. Laura Vassen and baby after a short vacation with Mrs. Chase and Mrs. Von Hachl have returned to San Mateo, where the Vassens are to spend the summer.

Harold Stockwell has enlisted in the army.

Mrs. L. H. Green is convalescent from a recent attack of la grippe, which confined her to her bed.

ROMINGER BILL DISCUSSED AT LODI

The City of Lodi has been selected by President Frank T. Swett as the meeting place for the grape growers and winemakers of the State on Saturday afternoon, July 21st. In a few days invitations will be sent out to the 3000 members of the California Grape Protective Association asking them to gather at Thompson-Beckman Hall at 1:30 in the afternoon, to consider the measure or measures that will be put on the ballot by the initiative in November 1918

Those who are working for the success of this meeting and will head delegations from their respective districts are E. A. Grau, of Irvington; Stiles McLaughlin, of Lemore; Jas. Madison, of Fresno; George L. Belcher, of Pomona; Charles Crawford, of Ukiah; Fred Ewer, of Napa; E. M. Sheehan, of Sacramento; Dr. H. Ohrwall, of Hollister; Benton Ballou, of Ontario; Tracy Learnard, of Gilroy; L. Woodard, of Campbell; C. C. Woodworth, of Lodi; Claus Mangels, of Cordelia; C. E. Humbert, of Cloverdale; George Covell, of Modesto; C. L. LaRue, of Yountville and C. J. Wetmore, of San Francisco.

The Board of Directors of the California Grape Protective Association, at the Lodi meeting, will recommend the Rominger Bill, be initiated, but there is a possibility that a clean-cut anti-saloon measure may also be put on the ballot by the grape growers.

CELEBRATION AT STATE HOME

Fourth of July at the Sonoma State Home proved to be a day of great pleasure for all. The children were entertained in the morning with games and races. The main features of the afternoon were a ball game and a dance. The best program ever given at the "Home" was put on in the evening. The patriotic pageant was very appropriate, and was a tribute to the "Valley of the Moon."

The singing, dancing and clever tumbling was a great credit to those who trained the participants, and the clowns won great applause by their amusing "stunts."

FUND FOR FIRE PROTECTION GROWS

"Boyes Springs knows how" is becoming a popular and deserved slogan these days, for the fund started to give the springs necessary fire protection, has been gaining hourly and now totals over $800.

The theatrical benefit given at the theatre last Saturday night materially added to the good cause and Mr. and Mrs. Landers Stevens and their fellow thespians enlisted the praise and thanks of the entire section for their splendid efforts.

The theatre was crowded to capacity and after orchestra selections and two reels of moving pictures, there were clever vocal numbers by well known vocalists, including ex-sheriff Whelan, of San Francisco, who sang himself into the hearts of all with his rollicking Irish and happy Scotch songs, imitative of Harry Lauder. His Jewish parody on "Harrigan" was immense.

A very artistic number and one that appealed to lovers of the classic was that given by a noted French operatic baritone.

There was also a song and dance and acrobats on this exceptionally fine bill.

"The New Chief of Police" concluded the program and the powerful arraignment of reformers evoked great applause as interpreted by the finished actor, Landers Stevens, and his charming wife, Georgie Cooper.

Dancing concluded the evening.

RESULTS IN SAN JOSE ROUND-UP

It has been said that the true cowboy of the west, with his outfit of picturesque chaps and gaudy toggery passed out of existence with the arrival of the little farmer with his barb wire fences and irrigating ditches. But the immense crowd which witnessed the second day's performance of the San Jose Round-Up yesterday feels justified in refuting this belief, for the series of thrilling events given them. The hundreds of real cowboys and fully as many real cowhorses, must lead one to argue that though the vast ranges be in a great measure partitioned off, and the old hard-living, gun-fighting puncher a thing of the past, the business of stockraising still goes on with its full quota of riders and ropers living their lives in their saddle.

The result of one day's contest follows:

LOCAL RED CROSS NUMBERS OVER 200

Another meeting of patriotic and enthusiastic citizens was held in the Woman's Club House last Friday evening to further the work of the Sonoma Valley Branch of the Red Cross. The complete list of officers is as follows:

Chairman, Mayor Wm. VonHacht; vice chairman, Mr. Fred'k T. Duhring; rec. secretary, Mrs. J. F. Wagnon; financial sec., Mrs. James McElney; treasurer, Dr. W. B. Hays, chairman of finance committee, Mr. Chas. LaTorres; membership, Miss Edna Cooper; civilian relief, Mrs. Louis Green; military relief, Mrs. G. H. Hotz; Publicity, Mrs. Fred'k T. Duhring. All of these officers together, constitute the Executive Board. It will be unuder the committee on military relief that classes will be formed for first aid to injured, hygiene, dietetics, etc; and with which the women will meet for making all sorts of hospital supplies. A sewing room is to be fitted up at once, machines and tables have already been donated. More of these furnishings, however, are needed, and anyone who can assist in this way by loaning, is asked to communicate with Mrs. G. H. Hotz.

Old, but clean, cotton and linen cloth is also badly needed. Here is another chance in which to do your "bit," and perchance may probably save the life of some wounded boy at the front. These bundles of clean, old or new, pieces, can be left at Hotz's store. Bring them soon as work has already begun. Ask about your place in this section.

Local pride must make this Sonoma branch one of the largest and most active of any town and vicinity of this size in the state. VINEBURG

Mr. S. J. Studley, the well known orchardist of Buena Vista, left on last Saturday for Susanville, Lassen County, on legal business.

Cherry picking is about finished in this part of the valley and a fair crop is reported.

Ellis Vernon is now engaged in erecting sheds at the drying plant of John Batto & Sons at this place.

Master Ernest Figone, of San Francisco, was the guest of his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Batto, over the week end.

Contractor Joe B. Small has just completed a spacious sleeping porch at the handsome residence of Mr. William Mackintosh, on the Napa road.

Chas. Baines, of Alta Vista, was a visitor in this vicinity on Tuesday last.

Chester Studley, if nothing unforseen happens, will be the tomatoe king of Vineburg, has he is now cultivating some 18,000 vines.

Dr. Irving Gobar, of Sonoma, Fred Batto and Jim Small, with Joe Andrieux at the wheel, motored to Colfax on July 4th., and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Batto. The Doctor returned by train the same evening but Jim will remain a while.

H. H. Johnson, the popular freight conductor of the N. W. P., with friends, passsed through this burg in a swell car on Sunday last.

In all my experience as a writer for the Index-Tribune I have never attained the "height" I now occupy, that is writing Vineburg news in Colfax, Placer County, which is 2,400 feet above the level of the sea. Of course that is some high, but there is nothing too high for Vineburg, believe me.

WHY YOU ARE NERVOUS

The nervous system is the alarm system of the human body.

In perfect health we hardly realize that we have a network of nerves, but when health is ebbing, when strength is declining, the same nervous system gives the alarm in headaches, tiredness, dreamful sleep, irritability and unless corrected, leads straight to a breakdown.

To correct nervousness, Scott's Emulsion is exactly what you should take; its rich nutriment gets into the blood and rich blood feeds the tiny nerve-cells while the whole system responds to its refreshing tonic force. It is free from alcohol.
